See Page 2 for interpretive information.

1. Adirondack Gold Maple Farm (C)

74 Bear Pond Road

www.AdkGoldMaple.com

Here third generation maple producers operate an old fashioned sugarhouse. They have 700 taps (600 with tubing and 100 in buckets) and a 2' x 6' wood-fired stainless steel evaporator. Stock up on maple products for gifts for the year. Family activities are planned at Adirondack Gold Maple Farm for both days of each weekend. Come meet the Maple Queen and browse the Kenyons' full line of maple products. See recipes on our website and plan how you will use Adirondack Gold Maple products on your table.

2. Martin's Lumber (D)

280 Valley Road

www.PersisGranger.com/Adk_Martins.htm

Gary and Wini Martin have a one hundred-acre certified tree farm with a portable bandsaw mill, and their site is also the home of Lucyann's Stained Glass Stepping Stones and her necklaces and paper bead earrings. You can see these craft items and demonstrations of the sawmill operation. They carefully manage their woodland resources and will talk to you about silviculture, explaining the principles of sustainable forestry. They will demonstrate sawing, including selectively cut maple that bears the indications of tapping in bygone days. Their displays will include maple boards, showing some of the unique and beautiful grains of the sugar maple.

3. Valley Road Maple Farm (E)

190 Valley Road

www.thurman-ny.com/Directory-all.asp

Sugarmakers Mike Hill and Ralph Senecal boil in a new state-of-the-art sugarhouse. They have 1,500 taps on vacuum with reverse osmosis. Their products include syrup, cream, candy, sugar, cotton candy, and they will open early for breakfast. Valley Road Maple earned the Vermont international maple syrup contest for light amber syrup and the 2008 and 2009 New York State Fair first prize for maple candy. They will host breakfast each morning beginning at 9 a.m. -- hot, fluffy pancakes with pure maple syrup drizzled over the top! MMmmmm.

4. Toad Hill Maple Farm (B)

151 Charles Olds Road

www.toadhillmaple.com

The Galusha family has produced pure Adirondack Maple Products at Toad Hill for more than 30 years. This year they will be welcoming you to their brand new energy-efficient sugarhouse, four times the size of their old one, with reverse osmosis, SteamAway and new wood-fired evaporator.. Toad Hill is the largest maple producer in Warren County, with more than 4,000 vacuum-assisted taps spread across three sugar bushes. See demonstrations of the equipment and browse--syrup, maple cream, sugar and candy.
